The network will be developed and led by Kyiv-based Atlantic Group. Its new digital content division headquartered in Vienna, Liquid 7, will launch later this calendar year across Central and Eastern Europe. The network will integrate content from such Meredith brands as Better Homes and Gardens, Parents, Fitness and Family Circle.

Meredith will support the network with its considerable expertise in digital media, including operations, sales and marketing. In the U.S., Meredith's online properties – including www.BHG.com and www.Parents.com – reach 20 million unique visitors and deliver 300 million page views monthly.

"This agreement is a great example of the quality and relevance of Meredith's content to women everywhere," said John Zieser, Meredith's Chief Development Officer. "It's also recognition of our deep knowledge and skill at operating strong digital media businesses."

The European women's network will be available in local languages and focused on issues most important to adult women, including parenthood, home, food and health and well-being. Sales and marketing opportunities will be available locally and regionally. Liquid 7 will integrate social media and enhanced research capabilities to support client marketing objectives.

"Working with Meredith is a great opportunity for us," said Atlantic Group president Andrew Bain. "Their strong portfolio of media brands and innovative marketing services is a tremendous complement to Liquid 7, and will serve our clients well as our key markets evolve digitally."
