With a chic, modern design and expert insights that only the editors of PEOPLE can provide, the quarterly perfect-bound publication will be a coveted collectible for Royals fans.

"PEOPLE has reported on the Royals since its debut in 1974 and has established itself as the leading authority on Royals," says Dan Wakeford, Editor in Chief, PEOPLE. "We felt it was only natural to launch a stand-alone beautifully crafted quarterly magazine, which will inspire and entertain with deep stories and lush photography."

Adds Doug Olson, President and General Manager, Meredith Magazines, "Readers count on PEOPLE as the trusted authority to provide the most accurate and comprehensive Royals coverage. PEOPLE also teamed up again with The CW Network for two upcoming one-hour documentary specials focused on the Royals. The first, "PEOPLE Presents: Harry & Meghan's American Dream," is set to air Tuesday, March 30 at 9pm ET/PT, and the second, "PEOPLE Presents: William & Kate's Royal Anniversary," is set to air Thursday, April 29, at 8pm ET/PT. These documentary specials are an informative and entertaining chronological re-telling of the "fab four" that will feature archival footage with animation, graphics, fun explainer pods, and expert commentary from PEOPLE's Royals team. The TV specials are the latest in a partnership with The CW Network that began last year with the broadcast of the two-hour documentary, "PEOPLE Presents Harry & Meghan: A Royal Rebellion."

PEOPLE's vast audience has had an insatiable appetite for the Royals over the years. In fact, Princess Diana appeared on the cover of PEOPLE more than any other subject in the brand's history. William and Kate's wedding in 2011 and Harry and Meghan's wedding in 2018 remain among the best-selling issues. One of PEOPLE's most popular digital verticals is dedicated to the Royals at <https://people.com/royals/>, which satisfies readers' interest in up-to-the-minute, 24/7 content.

In 2017 PEOPLE partnered with ABC on "The Story of Diana," a two-night television event that marked the 20th anniversary of Princess Diana's tragic passing at 36 years old. The documentary debuted to impressive ratings and won the two-hour timeslot over two consecutive nights, which led to another two-night ABC documentary the following year called "PEOPLE Presents the Royals." And back in 1997, PEOPLE purchased at Christie's auction in New York one of Princess Diana's famous Jacques Azagury dresses, which was subsequently donated to the New-York Historical Society in 2015 and is now a part of the museum's permanent collection.
