

SOUTHERN LIVING ANNOUNCES 2025 SOUTH'S BEST AWARD WINNERS

Charleston, St. Simons Island, The Peabody Memphis Among Top Winners

Tampa And Annapolis Rank In The Top 20 South's Best Cities For The First Time

NEW YORK and BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 11, 2025 /PRNewswire/ -- Today, Southern Living announces the winners of its ninth annual South's Best Awards. The annual survey highlights top Southern destinations, accommodations, and experiences, voted on by Southern Living readers. Full coverage of the South's Best Award winners will appear in the April issue of Southern Living, on sale March 21 and are online now at SouthernLiving.com.

This year's survey reveals the South's Best Cities, Top Beach Towns, Top Classic Hotels, Top Resorts, Top Beach Bars, Top Barbecue Joint in Each State, Top Seafood Dives, and for the first time, Top Cruises. St. Simon's Island, Georgia takes the top spot in the Best Beach Towns category, while Charleston, South Carolina remains the South's Best City for the ninth consecutive year, recognized for its rich culture, food, and history.

In addition to the survey results, Southern Living editors have handpicked special features for this year's awards, including: Vacation of the Year (Outer Banks, NC), Restaurant of the Year (Lost Isle in Johns Island, SC), and a list of Top New Hotels in the South.

"Southern hospitality is more than just a saying—it's a way of life, and no one knows the best experiences better than the locals. That's why, year after year, we turn to our readers to share their favorite places that define the South," said Sid Evans, Southern Living Editor in Chief, "This year, we decided to focus on vacations, which led to the new editor-chosen categories: Restaurant of the Year, Vacation of the Year, and Best New Hotels. We also included the Top 50 Beach Towns because there are so many that our readers love, and now is the perfect time to start planning summer travel."
